

We have three short announcements to make, and we want to highlight that we are pushing hard to reach the first milestone of 1000 miners, as well as increase availability and reduce lead time of hardware.

CoinMarketCap

CoinMarket Cap Listing

We are pleased to announce that the GEOD token is now an Untracked Listing on CoinMarket Cap.

The CoinMarketCap page provides a nice introduction to the project, and we recommend community members add the GEOD token to their watch list.

<https://coinmarketcap.com/currencies/geodnet/>

Rouven Keller: Community Support Ambassador

We are pleased to welcome Rouven as an official member of the GEODNET team, and he can be now reached at rouven@geodnet.com.

Rouven has provided weekly Q&A, direct miner support, and project outreach to the broader IoT mining community.

He has written a very useful guide on setting up the MobileCM miner and ERC-20 wallet.

Rouven started his career as an electrician and then moved into digital lighting programming, where he has been supporting the largest theatre in Switzerland, located in Zurich, for more than 20 years.

Fluent in English and German, Rouven's practical experience, social media expertise, and most importantly his focus on timely support is a huge addition to our team.

Roy Liang: Investor Relations

We are pleased to welcome Roy as an official member of the GEODNET team, and he can be now reached at roy@geodnet.com.

Roy is developing investor relations materials and he is in charge of connecting to the broader Token and VC community.

Roy began his career in investment banking and obtained Series 6, 77 licenses, as well as an MBA from Babson Graduate School of Business. More recently Roy has been actively involved in the Venture and Token investment community, serving as Venture Partner at two venture firms.

Fluent in Chinese and English, Roy will be building up collateral to attract investors and preparing GEODNET for listing on CEX.